Macro Economic Situation

1.1 Real Sector

According to the preliminary estimates of the Central Bureau of Statistics, the Nepalese economy has recorded a higher economic growth in FY 2007/08 after a period of seven years. The real GDP growth this year has increased by 5.6 percent at the basic prices and by 4.7 percent at the producers' price, while during the last fiscal year respective growth rates were only 2.6 percent and 3.2 percent. During the fiscal year, both the agricultural as well as non-agricultural sectors have witnessed the higher growth rates of 5.7 percent and 5.6 percent as compared to the lower growth rates of 0.9 percent and 4.1 percent respectively in FY 2006/07.

A substantial increase of 16.8 percent in the paddy production following the favorable weather condition and expansion in the production of vegetables and fruits have led to a higher growth of 5.7 percent in the agricultural sector, which contributes about one-third of GDP. According to the agricultural production index, food crop has gone up by 7.3 percent. In this group, paddy, maize and wheat grew by 16.8 percent, 3.2 percent and 3.8 percent respectively. Similarly, the production of vegetables and nurseries has increased by 9.6 percent and that of fruits and spices by 5.4 percent.

In the non-agricultural sector, the growth of financial sector, wholesale and retail trade, hotels and restaurant, transport, storage and communication remained encouraging. A gradual improvement in the peace and security situation, establishment of additional banks and financial institutions and an increase in the tourist arrival led to the expansion of these sectors. In the non-agricultural sector, the financial intermediaries recorded a higher growth of 13.8 percent in 2007/08 compared to 11.4 percent last year. The other sub-sectors of the non-agricultural sector which attained the growth rate of more than 6 percent were hotels and restaurants, health and social work, transport and communication and wholesale and retail trade. However, the manufacturing sector, which contributes around 7 percent to GDP, grew meagerly by 0.2 percent only. Frequent industrial disputes, bandhs and strikes adversely affected the industrial sector's production.

While classifying GDP into the primary sector (agriculture and forestry, fisheries, and mining and quarrying), secondary sector (manufacturing, electricity, gas and water, and construction) and tertiary sector (rest of the service sector), the growths of the primary sector, secondary sector and tertiary sector was recorded as 5.6 percent, 1.8 percent and 6.9 percent respectively. In the previous year, the growths of these sectors were 1 percent, 4 percent and 4.1 percent respectively. In the current fiscal year, the contributions of these sectors to GDP were 33.1 percent, 15.5 percent and 51.4 percent, which were significantly from the contributions in the fiscal year 2006/07. In the FY 2007/08, the GDP growth at current producers' price increased by 12.9 percent to Rs 820.8 billion whereas the GDP growth at current producers' price was only 11.2 percent during the last fiscal year. Similarly, the GDP growth at the current basic price increased significantly by 13.8 percent (as compared to 10.5 percent last year) to Rs 768.83 billion.

The real per capita GDP (at constant price of FY 2000/01) has grown by 2.6 percent to Rs 20,816 in the FY 2007/08 from last year's level, while the nominal per capita GDP at current prices has increased by 10.4 percent to Rs 30,361. Last year, the nominal per capita GDP was Rs. 27,497. In US Dollar terms, the per capita GDP at current price was US$ 470 in the FY 2007/08 compared to US$ 390 a year ago.

1.2 Financial Sector

The financial sector of the country has further intensified and deepened during the FY 2007/08. In this period, five commercial banks, twenty development banks, four finance companies and one micro-finance development bank were established. Consequently, the number of commercial banks, development banks, finance companies and micro-finance development banks reached 25, 58, 78, and 12 respectively in April 2008. In addition, the number of commercial banks' branches has also increased in this period. With this, the outreach of the banking services has increased, with the average population served by one bank branch reduced to 46 thousand compared to 48 thousand a year ago and 58 thousand two years ago.

In the review period as at mid-July 2008, deposits of commercial banks increased by Rs. 87.07 billion (26.0 percent) to Rs. 421.52 billion. Accordingly, capital mobilization of non-bank financial institution grew significantly in the review period. The higher deposit growth is attributed to the inflow of remittance income.

1.3 Inflation

During the FY 2007/08 the inflation level, which is measured by the change in consumer price index (CPI) as prepared by Nepal Rastra Bank, rose to 7.7 percent from the level of 6.6 percent last fiscal year. The rise in inflation was mainly due to substantial hikes in the prices of petroleum products in the FY 2007/08 together with escalating food prices observed in the market.

Capital Market

The capital market experienced an impressive growth in the last two years. Improvement in the peace and security situation, the central bank policy to increase the paid-up capital of banks and financial institutions, market reform, institutional and infrastructural developments related to the capital market has contributed to this growth. The activities of both the primary and secondary markets have been explained in detail as follows:

2.1 Primary Market

In the FY 2007/08 the Security Board of Nepal (SEBON) granted permission to 71 companies for mobilization of Rs.11.56 billion while 33 companies got approval to mobilize Rs. 2.75 billion in the preceding year. The number of capital mobilizing companies and amount of capital mobilization has risen by 132.25 percent and 320.36 percent respectively. Following chart shows the capital mobilization trends in the last five years in the primary market.

2.2 Secondary Market

The Nepalese stock market continued to expand in the FY 2007/08 too. With the restoration of peace and a subsequent boost in investors' confidence, major indicators of the share market grew tremendously. Almost all the major indicators of the secondary market like amount of shares traded, number of listed shares, the number of transactions, annual turnover, total market capitalization of listed shares, market capitalization and GDP ratio, turnover to market capitalization and the GDP ratios all increased in the review period.

2.2.1 Turnover

Since 24 August 2007 trading is being done through the Automated Trading System (ATS), a fully automated screen-based trading system (Details has been given in the paragraph 5.1). The introduction of the ATS, extension of trading hours and listing of new companies has contributed to a substantial increase in trading activities. The total transactions of shares in terms of value increased by 172 percent to Rs. 22.82 billion in the FY 2007/08, while it was Rs. 8.36 billion last year. Similarly, the number of transactions increased by 25.1 percent to 15.08 hundred thousand, and it was 12.05 hundred thousand last year. The number of shares traded during the year increased by 17.2 percent to 136, whereas it was 116 a year before. Likewise, the number of ordinary shares traded during the review period was 28599.77 million, which is a 57.6 percent increase from previous year. The daily average turnover recorded in the review year was Rs. 97.11 million; the turnover was Rs. 78.22 million last year. Similarly, the market opened for 235 days this year, three days more than last year.

In the total turnover, the commercial banking group's overall domination continued as before because of a better performance of commercial banks. Almost all commercial banks have posted profit in the review period in which the turnover of the commercial banking group was Rs. 5.56 billions. However, in total composition of turnover share of commercial bank declined slightly compared to 63 percent in the review year which occupied 65 percent in the FY 2006/07. The Hydropower group came second on the basis of annual turnover. This group's turnover was Rs. 3.19 billion, which accounts for 15 percent of the total transaction. In the same way, finance companies occupied 10 percent and development banks 9 percent.

But, the contributions of the manufacturing and processing group, other group, trading group and hotel group was insignificant as these groups contributed less than one percent in total turnover.

The block transaction of Bottlers Nepal Limited contributed to tremendous growth of the manufacturing and processing group in terms of turnover. This group posted a 100 times growth in the review period. Similarly, the turnover of the development banking group increased by approximately five fold compared to the previous year. The commercial bank, finance, hotel and trading groups posted a good rate of growth on the basis of turnover while insurance companies posted a relatively moderate growth but that of hotel and trading companies declined.

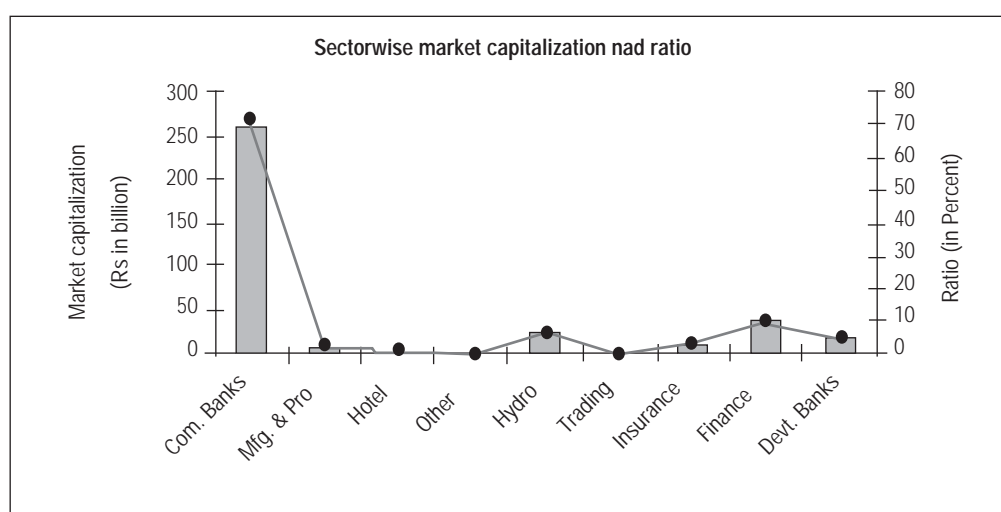

The ratios of turnover to market capitalization and turnover to GDP are 6.2 percent and 2.8 percent respectively--a significant improvement over the previous years' 4.5 percent and 1.1 percent.

2.2.2 Trading of Bonds

Both the government and corporate bonds have been listed but they were not traded at all in the secondary market during the review period. Listing of government bonds reached 12 amounting Rs.13.15 billion and corporate bonds amounting Rs. 4.85 billion has been listed on NEPSE till the end of the FY 2007/08. A low number of individual investors and a income tax differential on interest for individuals and the corporate were the major reasons for a minimal transaction of specially government bonds.

2.2.3 Market Capitalizations

The total market capitalization of listed shares almost doubled to Rs.366.24 billion during the review year. The central bank's directive to increase the capital base of banks and financial institutions has a major impact on the market value of listed shares. Most of the companies opted to issue bonus and right shares to increase their capital base, which attracted lots of investors.

With the steep increase in market capitalization, its ratio to GDP went up to 44.3 percent this year. It is a notable increment over previous year's 29.8 percent level. In terms of market capitalization, the commercial bank sector again dominated the stock market. The market capitalization of the commercial banking group touched Rs.259.55 billion in the FY 2006/07, which is 72 percent of the total market capitalization. Hydropower companies occupied 7 percent of the total market capitalization. Similarly, shares of finance companies, insurance companies, development banks, manufacturing and processing, hotels occupied 10 percent, 3 percent, 5 per cent, 2 percent and 1 percent of the total market capitalization whereas others and trading each occupied less than 1 percent.

2.2.4. Indices

Due to a whopping increment in the share prices of banks, financial institutions, hydropower companies and development banks, the NEPSE index increased notably over the year. The restoration of peace, an improvement in listed companies' financial performance and, most importantly, the central bank's direction, dated 26 March 2007, to double paid-up capital for banks and financial institutions contributed to a remarkable increment in share prices and subsequently the stock market indices.

The stock market opened with the NEPSE index of 683.95 points at the beginning of the FY 2007/08 and ended with 963.36 points during the year. The year on year NEPSE index increased by 40.9 percent. It reached the high of 1064.09 on 17 December 2007 and the low of 677.98 on 18 July 2008. Of the NEPSE Index, banking sub-index went up by 181.39 points to 985.65 (which is also the highest point) during the year. The banking sub-index measures the transactions of companies listed under commercial bank group. It touched the lowest point of 759.67 on 31 July August 2007.

The twelve-month standard deviation stood at 110.8 in mid-July 2008 compared to 87.4 a year ago, reflecting an increased volatility in the stock market.

The sensitive index, unveiled from 1 January 2007, which shows the share price movement of the companies categorized under Class A reached 253.72 point at the end of the fiscal year registering a rise of 44.9 points. It recorded the low of 172.19 on 30 July 2007 and the high of 275.21 on 19 December 2007.

2.2.5 Listing and de-listing

The number of listed companies in the FY 2007/08 reached 148 with the listing of 13 new companies. However, the number of listed companies at the end of the fiscal year came down to 142 with the delisting of five companies and merger of two. De-listed companies have been either already closed or have not held annual general meetings or have not audited their results for more than two years. Altogether 0.17 million unit shares amounting Rs.174.91 million have been de-listed during the year.

At the end of the FY 2006/07 there were 17 companies listed under the commercial bank group. Similarly, there were 23 companies in the development bank group, 17 companies in the insurance group, 55 companies in the finance group, 18 companies in the manufacturing and processing group, 4 each in the hotel and trading group, 1 in other group and 3 in the hydropower group.

During the year, a total of 7.49 million units of ordinary shares amounting Rs. 749.40 million, 38.45 million units of rights shares amounting Rs. 384.56 million, 18.69 million units bonus shares amounting Rs. 1869.73 million were listed for trading. With the listing of these shares the number of listed securities other than corporate and government bonds reached 321.13 million units in the FY 2007/08. This is an increase of 31.9 per cent, from 243.50 million units in the previous year. The paid-up value of listed shares reached Rs. 29.46 billion during the FY 2007/08, which rose by 35.50 percent over the previous year. Likewise, for the first time 2 million units of convertible preference shares amounting Rs.200 million were listed during the review period.

Listing of Bonds

Two million units of corporate debentures amounting Rs. 200.00 million and 61.00 million units of government bonds amounting Rs.6100.00 million were listed for trading.

2.2.6 Classifications of listed Companies

NEPSE has classified 71 companies under the 'A' category on 8 February 2008 while there were 66 companies under this category last year. Nine new companies comprising Nepal Insurance Company, Annpurna Finance Company, Everest Finance Company, Prudential Bittiya Snasthan, Bhajuratna Finance and Saving Company, Chimek Vikas Bank, Business Development Bank, Sanima Vikas Bank and Sahayogi Viksa Bank have been upgraded from category 'B' to 'A' and four companies namely Paschimanchal Development Bank, Prudential Insurance Company, Union Finance and Fewa Finance have been demoted to 'B' category owing to their poor performance. Companies earning profit consecutively for three years with at least 1000 shareholders and the paid-up capital of Rs. 20 million are listed under category 'A'.

Above chart shows an increase in the number of companies classified under 'A' category. There were 43 companies classified as category 'A' in the FY 2003/04. This number reached 71 in the FY 2007/08: 12 commercial banks, 8 development banks, 11 insurance companies, 38 finance companies and one each company from the hydropower group, and the manufacturing and processing group. Companies classified under the 'A' category occupied 55.8 percent of the total paid-up capital, 50.9 percent of the total listed shares and 79.4 percent of market capitalization.

2.3 Other Developments

With the view to further reform the market and institutions, NEPSE has taken the following measures.

3.1 Trading System Automated

The Automated Trading System (ATS), an internationally compatible trading system was inaugurated by the then Finance Minister Dr. Ram Sharan Mahat on 24 August 2007. In order to adopt the ATS, NEPSE made an agreement with the British Company Comdaq Limited in November 2006 under the Asian Development Bank (ADB) loan assistance project--Corporate and Financial Governance (CFG)--at the cost of 300 thousand US dollars. The system has helped eliminate all possible human errors as seen in the open out cry trading procedures. Several international practices have been incorporated to make the system internationally compatible and modifications have also been made to customize the existing rules and regulations of the country. The following features are therefore found in the existing automated trading system.

1. Client Management

Client Management enables a broker to create a client. Without creating a client the broker will not be allowed to place any order. The broker has to insert various details of the client, including a client code, which is a unique code for that particular client. After receiving an order, the broker has to place the order for that client on the First in First Out (FIFO) basis of the order registered by the client's in the broker's office.

2. Order

It is an expression of interest to either buy or sell a specified quantity of stock either at a specified price or at the current market price. An order is given by a client to a licensed broker. There is an order entry form in the system through which a broker places a purchase or sell order.

Generally, four types of order can be placed in the system:

Regular: An order which is completed on the exchange and that confirms the order of lot size or greater than that.

Odd-Lot: An order which is completed on the exchange and that confirms the order less than lot size.

Manual: An order which is placed by brokers and is reported individually by the buying and selling brokers.

Block: An order which is placed by brokers and confirms to the minimum block trade quantity specified by the exchange and is reported individually by the buying and selling brokers.

3. Price: It is the price, which the buyer quotes in his/her buy or sell order. The investors as usual can quote either fixed price, price in range or market price. If broker find the price within range they enter the details to execute the transactions. In the present system the order entry form on computer has been developed to indicate a price either in limit or market. If the price is given in fixed, brokers insert the fixed price and if it is given in range they insert the best price for their clients. Brokers must always attempt to execute transactions to protect their clients' interest. If investors are sellers brokers must attempt to execute transactions at higher prices and if investors are buyers brokers must attempt to buy at low prices. It is the negotiation process through which they execute the transactions. If the price is market then brokers will execute orders at the market price, that is, they buy or sell the shares at market price.

4. Execute At This represents the phases of trading when to execute the order. There are three phases during which the broker can place the order to execute the transactions. Such phases are:

At the Open (ATO): ATO indicates the order should be executed when the market opens. In order to execute the transactions at ATO the member brokers have to place the orders to execute it at ATO. All the ATO orders will be accumulated in the system till the ATO execution time and only then the ATO orders will be executed at the best price at the opening of transactions. ATO gives the price, quantity and time priority for the execution. At present NEPSE has fixed 11:30 A.M. to 11:55 A.M. as time to place ATO orders. The engine calculates the best price and matches the order at 12:00 noon, that is, when the market opens. In this case, a price can be quoted within the range of 5 percent of the previous close price. Once the ATO phase is over a price can be quoted within the range of 2 percent of LTP. ATO determines the opening price for the stock. If there are no matchable ATO orders for a stock the open price of the stock will be equal to the previous close price.

Continuous Trading This is the phase that indicates orders should be executed while the market is in progress.

At the Close This is the last phase that indicates orders should be executed when the market closes. The system has provided facility to generate the ATC price of a stock either by taking the average of the price of last n transactions or the average of the price of the last n minutes.

Currently NEPSE adopts the average of last n transactions where n equals to 1 i.e. the LTP of the stock at close is the ATC price or closing price.

5. Retain Until Customers can give orders to retain until the specified period as below unless it is executed.

End of Day (EOD) This indicates the placed orders if not executed will be retained until the end of today.

Good till cancelled (GTC) This indicates the order if not executed should be retained until it is cancelled. The system has provided facility for exchange to set the time period in days till which the pending orders can be retained in GTC.

NEPSE has adopted an order-driven market system. So each and every order entered should be backed by a written order in which the client must specify the validity period of the order but if she/he does not mention the time period the order will be valid for 15 days. In this case GTC will be 15 days.

6. Conditions This specifies the conditions under which the order could be executed. The conditions are as below.

None This indicates there are no conditions for execution of orders.

Immediate or Cancel (IOC) This condition indicates that the orders should be executed in full or part immediately if not executed immediately the unexecuted order will not be sent to Public order book but cancelled immediately by the system.

Fill or Kill (FOK) This condition indicates the order must get executed entirely or cancelled immediately. The unexecuted order is not sent to public order book but killed (cancelled) by the immediately. NEPSE has modified the system allowing entering the quantity of a stock to be traded either at the multiple of lot size or greater than that.

All or none (AON) This condition indicates the order must get executed entirely and if not executed the order is sent to public order book. In this condition too, NEPSE has modified the system allowing entering the quantity of a stock to be traded either at the multiple of lot size or greater than that.

7. Market Depth It is the provision, which the stock exchange has made to facilitate the bid and offers. Under this provision the member broker before inserting the bid and offers for certain quantities at certain price for the particular company can view the bid and offer placed by other brokers. This not only facilitates for the negotiation but also contributes for the execution of transactions at market price.

8. Settlement After automation NEPSE has continued T+3 for settlement but there is a little bit change in process. The trading is done at "T" and at T+1, the buying brokers have to submit bank vouchers for settlement with covering letter. At T+2, the selling brokers must submit share certificate with covering letter. At T+3, NEPSE prepares billing for payment and this will be forwarded to the bank.

Once the settlement is done the buying brokers with the consultation of the clients must decide and present the purchased shares if they want to record it as blank transfer. This must be completed within T+5.

9. Blank Transfer Under this mechanism an opportunities to derive the market benefit is provided. But presently, the buying brokers must complete the BT process within T+5. The transactions that are executed can be recorded in different ways and NEPSE has considered all possible retention.

3.2 Recruitment of new employees

In an effort to make the organization more efficient, NEPSE recruited 14 new employees for different positions under the open recruitment system on 2 September 2007. After a brief orientation six of them were placed in the Surveillance, Listing and Finance Departments and eight in the Trading and Human Resources Management Departments. In order to make its core business more efficient and smooth NEPSE has reformed its organization, introduced a new organizational chart and a Voluntary Retirement Scheme (45 per cent staffers opted for the scheme). Similarly, it also started outsourcing its non-core business, like security and cleaning services.

3.3 Trading through WAN started

After the introduction of the ATS and with the initiative and guidance of NEPSE, member brokers of NEPSE have started online trading through Wide Area Network (WAN) from their own office from 13 October 2007. Because of this facility, stock brokers can now sell or buy shares from their office. The brokers who have the necessary infrastructure prescribed by NEPSE will get access to WAN. To get access a broker must have a price board, separate rooms along with separate computers for clients' order entry, settlement and must provide up to date information to the clients. In the first phase, NEPSE granted permission to Malla and Mall Stock Broking Limited, Nepal Stock House, Nepal Investment and Securities Trading Private Limited, Shreekrishna Securities Limited and Premiere Securities Company Limited for trading through WAN. From the end of the FY 2007/08 all the 23 brokers transact from their office via WAN.

3.4 Market Halt System Introduced

NEPSE introduced a string of measure to stabilize the volatility of the stock market. Previously, NEPSE used to halt transactions of respective individual company by imposing the circuit breaker whenever share prices of the companies move up or down over 10 percent in a single day transaction. As per new measure, it can also suspend the whole market trading, which is known as index based circuit breaker or market halt. Now on NEPSE can halt the trading floor for 15 minutes if the index moves up or down by three percent during the first half an hour. After resumption of trading if the index moves up or down by four percent, NEPSE can suspend trading for another half an hour. After the resumption if again the index changes by five percent, NEPSE can suspend trading for rest of the day. The new measure also require brokers to clearly list orders of buying and selling shares and place those orders for transaction on priority basis. This provision has been enforced to address the rising concerns of small investors.

3.5 Trading hours extended

From 19 December 2007 NEPSE has increased the trading hours by one hour due to an increasing trading pressure after the automation of trading. Initially, NEPSE opened its trading activities for only two hours. Now the trading floor opens from 12.00 noon to 15.00. NEPSE has expected that investors in general and small investors in particular will benefit from the increase in trading hours.

3.6 Real time information disseminated

NEPSE has started providing real time information (live trading activity) to investors from 28 November 2008. Due to this facility investors can check share prices online from anywhere live during the trading hours. Additionally, without any time gap investors can check trading activities—like top-gainers, top-lossers, imposition of trading halt and resumption—on NEPS's web page.

3.7 Trading of Promoters' shares

NEPSE began trading of promoters' shares on 31 March 2008, adopting a different price quoting mechanism for the first trading of promoters' shares of the listed companies. For the first trading, the price of the promoters' share of a company that has a positive net worth could not be less than five times of its net worth per share or half of the current market price of the ordinary share, whichever is low. Similarly, in the case of a company that has a negative net worth, the first trading price couldn't be below half of the current market price of the ordinary share. Earlier, one could have traded the promoters' shares on the basis of the market price of the ordinary share. It is expected that trading of promoters' shares will make the capital market more vibrant and stabilizes the prices of ordinary shares.

3.8 Publication of Newsletter, Monthly Market Statistics and Review

In its bid to make investors more aware of the secondary market NEPSE launched an English language newsletter, called 'NEPSE Newsletter', on 20 March 2008. Published once every two months, the newsletter will provide information on capital market activities. The newsletter will help reduce uncertainty and provide greater market efficiency through the dissemination of relevant information to investors and other concerned agencies and persons. NEPSE has also started publishing Monthly Market Statistics and Review from April 2008. It covers the secondary market related activities on a monthly basis.

3.9 OTC Market Started

NEPSE started the over-the-counter (OTC) market from 4 June 2008 to give shareholders a chance to sell or buy the shares of companies that are de-listed and that are not listed on NEPSE for failing to meet the listing criteria. The shares of 43 companies can now be traded in the OTC market. But as per the request of Nepal Rastra Bank NEPSE has decided to restrict the shares trading of Nepal Bank Limited in the OTC, since shares trading of Nepal Bank Limited will have a negative impact on the ongoing Financial Sector Reform Project. In the OTC Market one does not have to go to brokers to trade shares; one can come to NEPSE and trade, paying a commission of two percent for transactions of up to Rs 25,000, 1.5 per cent for transactions of above Rs 25,000 but under Rs

5,00,000, and one per cent for transactions of over Rs 5,00,000. However, no transaction has been made until the end of the fiscal year.

3.10 NEPSE Converted to Profit Seeking Entity

The 26th annual general meeting (AGM) of NEPSE held on 23 May 2008 has decided to convert the organization into a profit seeking entity. The Company Registrar Office approved the decisions made at the AGM. The approval allowed NEPSE to turn itself into a profit seeking company, change its board of directors and increase its capital. Accordingly, NEPSE's authorized capital increased to Rs 160 million from Rs 50 million. Likewise, the paid-up capital was raised to Rs 50 million from the present Rs 34.9 million. Similarly, the structure of NEPSE's board was made more professional and representation having conflict of interest has been removed from the board. And there are no representatives from stock brokers and the Securities Board of Nepal on the board. The AGM also passed the decision to name the company as "Nepal Stock Exchange Limited" both in Nepali and English.
